94-YEAR-OLD EAST GIPPSLANDER SHARES LIFETIME OF EXPERIENCE IN NEW BOOK

At 94 years of age, East Gippslander John Mulligan continues to share his knowledge and passion for the environment, with his new book Our Mismanaged Forests set to be officially launched this Sunday. Speaking in Federal Parliament, Member for Gippsland Darren Chester said Mr. Mulligan’s work the importance of practical, on-the-ground environmental management. “I’ve often said what we need is more boots and less suits when it comes to looking after our environment,” Mr Chester said.

“More boots on the ground doing the work to manage our forests and keep communities safe, and fewer suits writing reports and making excuses.” Mr Chester said Mr Mulligan brings a unique and valuable perspective, shaped by a lifetime of experience in the bush. “John has spent his life living and working in East Gippsland’s forests,” he said. “As a survivor of the 1939 Black Friday bushfires, he has witnessed firsthand the impact of major fire events across more than nine decades.”

In Our Mismanaged Forests, Mr Mulligan draws on that experience to highlight the importance a land management, including reducing fuel loads and learning from traditional Indigenous practices that have long used fire as a tool to care for country. Mr. Chester said the book delivers an important and timely message. “We need to better understand how to live with fire in the landscape and take practical steps to reduce the risk of the devastating mega-fires we’ve seen in recent years,” he said. “Our Mismanaged Forests is an impressive contribution from a Gippslander who continues to advocate for practical, informed approaches to environmental management.” Pictured: Federal Member for Gippsland

Structured business planning for Gippsland farmers navigating variable seasons and financial pressure

AGRICULTURE VICTORIA

Plan to Be Resilient is a practical, hands-on workshop designed for farmers and small agri-business operators who are often time poor but know that taking time to plan is critical.

Resilient farm businesses do not eliminate risk – they prepare for it with clarity and intent.

Over three focused hours, participants will work through:

- ✓ Where seasonal variability, market volatility and cost pressures create vulnerability
- ✓ Key financial and operational drivers that most influence profitability and long-term viability
- ✓ Structural pressure points within your current business model that may limit your flexibility in challenging seasons
- ✓ Practical decision-making tools to strengthen preparedness, improve financial confidence and support operational planning and implementation
- ✓ Clear strategic priorities to guide investment, risk management and growth decisions over the next 12–24 months

This event is being delivered by NEX Business Farming Wellness on behalf of Agriculture Victoria as part of the Victorian Government's statewide Drought Support Package.
